

IN THE SPECIFICATION:

Please replace the paragraph beginning at page 3, line 5, with the following rewritten paragraph:

Specifically, the first aspect of the present invention is a laminated sheet for molding comprising: a film layer which comprises thermoplastic acrylic resin wherein the film layer is one of transparent or translucent; an intermediate layer which comprises a curable resin including at least one [[of]] polyisocyanate compound and an acrylic resin having hydroxyl groups, wherein the curable resin is a cured material in a semi-cured state; and a decorative layer having a mirror-like metallic luster, which comprises a binder resin and fine metal grains obtained from a thin metal film; wherein the layers are laminated in the order stated.